i·life Spring Semester Teaching & Home Fellowship

Hello! The Spring Semester is in full-swing here in Champaign-Urbana. Students just completed their first exams and are approaching midterms in a few short weeks.

This semester has brought on some welcome and fun changes to our ministry. Nick has been working with one of our pastors and another staff member to outline and shape a teaching series for our Sunday Morning service. The series follows a book called The Epic of Eden and gives an overview of the Old Testament and explains why it's important for Christians to engage this portion of the Bible. Just a week ago Nick taught on Adam and creation.

He continues to enjoy discipling young men, meeting and connecting with student athletes, and talking about Jesus with whomever will listen.

This semester he is taking a seminary class on the book of Romans and talks Amy's ear off often about what he is learning.

If you remember in previous letters, we've shared about how large our Home Fellowship had grown in the past year. As we began the Spring Semester we split that Home Fellowship into two groups to accommodate the growth. Each group is around 15 people currently and still growing as students invite their friends to a meal and time of fellowship.

In the process of preparing for splitting our Home Fellowship, three new leaders have stepped up to lead these groups and Nick and Amy have moved to roles coaching these new leaders. Amy is thriving in this role, as well as serving as a host for our now smaller Home Fellowship.

Each Tuesday she helps coordinate rides for students, a meal, and a welcoming atmosphere as we open our home to 15 young people during our Home Fellowship time.

We continue to be thankful for your partnership and support of Reliant on our behalf. Thanks for all you do to make this ministry possible.

Prayer Requests

- We're currently at 77% of needed monthly support.
- For continued growth of our Home Fellowships, that students would invite their friends and they'd come to know Jesus.
- That the Epic of Eden series would be fruitful and helpful in the lives of our students.
